Job Description

Faculty Positions in Neuroscience

The Ohio State University (OSU), Wexner Medical Center

The Department of Neuroscience invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor.

As part of an ongoing commitment to place OSU at the forefront of patient care, research and innovation, The College of Medicine is committing significant resources to build cutting-edge and internationally recognized basic and translational neuroscience programs. We have a goal that the Department of Neuroscience will become a Top 10 nationally-ranked department within 5 years.

Applicants who study the mechanisms underlying normal nervous system function and/or how these mechanisms and interactions are affected by disease or injury are encouraged to apply. Candidates with technical expertise in functional imaging, optogenetics, bioengineering, electrophysiology or -omics-based technologies (genomics, proteomics, metabolomics, connectomics, etc.) will be prioritized.

Newly recruited faculty will have the opportunity to be part of one or more established or rapidly growing research teams focused on neurotrauma (spinal cord and brain injury), neural regeneration or plasticity, neuroimmunology, neurodegeneration/cognitive impairment, pain, addiction, epilepsy and stroke/ischemic injury.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent and at least 3 years postdoctoral experience with a strong record of scholarly activity. Candidates for appointment as Associate or Full Professors should also be nationally or internationally recognized scholars with consistent externally funded research programs.

Prospective candidates should send a statement of research interests, vita and a list of three references to recruitosuneurosci@osumc.edu. Applications are being accepted now and formal review will begin August 30, 2018. The search will remain open until all positions are filled.

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and as such, women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Unless confidentiality is requested in writing, information regarding the applicants must be released upon request.
