Position Description

The Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC) School of Health Professions, Department of Laboratory Sciences and Primary Care, Physician Assistant Program, invites applications from highly motivated individuals for a full-time faculty member position for our expanding program and faculty. Faculty rank, salary, and tenure status will be based on terminal degree and experience.

The TTUHSC PA Program is a 27-month, master's-level curriculum located in Midland, TX, in a dedicated PA program facility, providing an environment of learning with a cohesive faculty and student body. The PA program has strong administrative support and excellent salary and benefits. Up to 20% release time may be dedicated to clinical practice.

Major/Essential Functions

- Provide student instruction in assigned courses and areas of need/expertise.
- Evaluate student performance in assigned courses and identify student learning deficiencies.
- Provide remedial instruction in assigned courses and areas of expertise.
- Coordinate/direct instruction in assigned courses, including preparation of course syllabus, course site, exam administration, reporting of student performance, and course analysis.
- Serve as assigned advisor for PA students to perform academic counseling of students.
- Engage and assist in clinical site recruitment, evaluation, and maintenance.
- Participate in curriculum development, assessment, admissions, and student progression committees.
- Participate in university, professional, scholarly, and community service activities.
- Support ARC-PA accreditation and continuous program improvement.
- Engage in other activities as determined by the Physician Assistant Program Director.

Required Qualifications

PA Applicants:

- Current NCCPA certification.
- Current Texas PA Licensure (or qualified and in process for new hires).
- Master's degree conferred from an ARC-PA-accredited PA program.
